

The Lamprey River Advisory Committee, the Durham Historical Association, and the Lamprey River Watershed Association are pleased to present:

Wiswall and Folsom Mills: Two Historic Tales of How Water Power Became Economic Power on the Lamprey.

On Saturday, September 18, from 1:00 to 3:30, go back to a time when water-powered mills formed much more than just the fabric of life: they sawed wood, ground grains, and made paper and a plethora of other products.

Curt Mackail will present the premier showing of his new documentary on the Wiswall Mills of Durham. Jim Deely of Deerfield will share his knowledge of mills and dams along the Lamprey, and then help the group explore history at the Folsom Mill site in West Epping.

The event will begin at the Epping Town Hall Meeting Room. This is part two of the Lamprey River Advisory Committee's three part series, "A Sense of Time and Place along the Lamprey".

In addition, a new documentary on the Mary Folsom Blair Park in Epping by Paul Gasowski will be shown at 12:30, a half hour prior to the start of the actual mill event.

The event is free and space is limited, so please reserve your spot by contacting:
